Reference From Context

These lines have been taken from the poem "once upon a time": once upon a time written by Garbada akara.

In this poem the poet compares the way of life and behavior from the past with those of the present. He tells us that people of past were sincere, true and honest. But the people of the present age ~~are hypocrites, artificial, selfish and imposters~~ there is a huge difference between the inner and ~~outer~~ life of the people of modern age.

Explanation

4.5

In these lines the poet tells his son to disclose the so called hospitality of the present people that whenever he meet a modern man at his home for the first time he welcomes him warmly and invites him to come again and again as it is his own home. when he goes there for the second time, he also welcomes him and gives him much attention.

But on his third visit the host's behavior is absolutely changed and he shuts his doors upon him.

Part a:-

Paraphrase

→ The people in the past were really sincere and wholehearted. They used to shake hands with affection and enthusiasm. My son! those golden days have been gone. Now the people shake hands just for their selfish designs that's why their left hand always search money in my empty pocket while shaking right hand with me.

Part 1

Importance of Honesty in daily life

Honesty is one of the most important values in daily life. It means being truthful in words and actions, and it helps build trust and strong relationships. When we are honest, we create a sense of reliability and respect, both at home and in society. People value those who speak the truth, even when it is difficult because honesty shows integrity and strength of character.

In our daily lives honesty is reflected in simple things like returning extra change, admitting mistakes, or keeping promises. These small actions may seem unimportant, but they shape who we are and how others see us. For example, a student who does not cheat in exams earns true success and self confidence.

Similarly, an employee who is honest in their work gains the trust of their employer and colleagues, leading to a better work environment.

Honesty also plays a key role in communication. When we are honest in expressing our thoughts and feelings, misunderstanding can be avoided and relationship become more meaningful. On the other hand, dishonesty can lead to guilt, stress and a loss of respect. Lies, even small ones, can grow over times and harm both Personal and Professional lives-while being honest is not always easy especially when the truth is uncomfortable. It is always the right choice. It requires Courage but it also leads to peace of mind and lasting respect. It is not just a moral value - but it is a way of life that brings long term happiness and integrity.

Summary of the "Lesson From Battle of Uhud"

The battle of Uhud was an extension of the battle of Badr. A large army of 3,000 of the Qureish of Makkah led by Abu Sufyan set out for Makkah to avenge their earlier defeat.

The Holy Prophet held a Council of war to listen about the intentions. According to the opinion of young muslims the Holy Prophet agreed to meet the enemy in the open outside Madina. The number of the muslim force was 1000 but on the way to the battlefield, three hundred hypocrites (Munafiqeen) led by Abdullah bin Ubayy withdrew and went to their homes. The holy Prophet (SAW) was thus left with 700 persons only.

The Archers were Commanded to take up their position at Uhud on the rising ground and not to abandon their posts under any circumstances when the muslim broke the enemy line, and the Quresh fell back. The contingent of the retreating Quresh Khalid bin walid who plunder the camp of the retreating Quresh. Khalid bin walid who had not yet converted to Islam, rushed with his
